LES MOTS ONT UNE ÂME

Guy de Maupassant

2026

control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind....

Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind....

Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind....

Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind....

Upon the beach breathe I the air
And cast adrift this quiet prayer.
Where ends the Earth and starts the sea,
There will my heart remember thee.

Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind....

*Upon the beach breathe I the air
And cast adrift this quiet prayer.*

*Upon the beach breathe I the air
And cast adrift this quiet prayer.*

Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind...

 Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind...
 Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind...
 Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind.... Now is the time for all men to take control of their destiny, to take control of their mind...
